

Cooperation with 2VIENTOS

The combination of our many years of experience in design and product development is the logical consequence of taking a common path in writing culture. High design standards and the use of natural and high-quality materials are the focus of our products. 2VIENTOS also handcrafts in Hamburg and uses walnut, metals and the unique cactus leather for its desk trays. The combination of precious materials not only gives our products an extraordinary touch and look, but also underlines our common philosophy of sustainability and longevity.
